MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

South Milwaukee's Positive Future Unfolds

On August 19, we honored our board and commission members, community volunteers and elected officials at the annual Karla Harris Dinner. It was an evening for celebration – of the new Bucyrus Club, of the momentum we're seeing across our City, and of the many people who give their time and talents every day to make South Milwaukee a better place.

The volunteer spirit of this community is inspiring, and I've seen it shine through more than ever during the incredibly difficult last 18 months. That spirit makes me all the more excited for the promising future of this great City. I'm proud to be your mayor. We have so much going for us.

Look no further than what is happening in partnership with the Bucyrus Foundation, which we celebrate in this month's edition of Bridges:

- Look at the $10 million gift coming to the City, schools, public spaces and local nonprofits from the Foundation (pg. 6), a historic investment in our City and what makes South Milwaukee uniquely South Milwaukee.
- Look at the Bucyrus Club and Museum, which opened to rave reviews in July (pg. 8) as a foundational part of our downtown redevelopment efforts.
- Look at the Bucyrus Commons project (pg. 8), which will deliver a special public event and gathering space to our City Center in 2022.

These investments join others we're seeing across the community – from tens of millions of dollars in redevelopment coming to the former Bucyrus campus to small business growth across the City – to put us on an economic development trajectory South Milwaukee hasn't seen in decades, if ever.

There is a new energy in South Milwaukee these days. I hope you feel it too. We have so much to be proud of. But it starts with people. So when I look to the future of this City, I look at those in the room at the Karla Harris Dinner – and everyone else who gives of their time and talent to make South Milwaukee a better place.

Sure, we have work to do. But we are doing it, and we will do it, together.

Erik Brooks

► Bucyrus Foundation Announces Historic $10 Million Investment in City of South Milwaukee

10-Year Commitment To Fund Downtown Redevelopment, Schools, Public and Greenspaces, and Nonprofits

The Bucyrus Foundation is making a generational, legacy-ensuring investment in the City it called home for almost 120 years.

On Thursday, September 9, the Foundation announced a $10 million contribution to many of the institutions that make South Milwaukee uniquely South Milwaukee. The gift will come as a series of annual $1 million donations over the next decade, and be administered through the City of South Milwaukee and South Milwaukee School District, which will receive $2 million of the overall contribution.

Funds will build on the Foundation's $2 million grant in 2020 toward the launch of the Bucyrus Club & Event Center/South Milwaukee Industrial Museum and development of a downtown public gathering space.

The new $10 million contributions will fund the following:

- Downtown South Milwaukee redevelopment, potentially laying a foundation for the creation of an entity focused on investments in property acquisition and rehabilitation, business attraction and retention, public improvements, marketing, events and other initiatives aimed at revitalizing South Milwaukee's City Center.

- The South Milwaukee School District, with a focus on investments in athletics, STEM (science, technology, engineering, math), and manufacturing career education.
- Initiatives to help fund City- and Milwaukee County-owned parks and other natural areas like the proposed new downtown South Milwaukee public space, the South Milwaukee War Memorial, Grant Park, the Oak Creek Watershed, and other areas in the City.
- A grant program for South Milwaukee nonprofit organizations, including South Milwaukee Human Concerns, a significant recipient of Bucyrus support prior to the sale of the company in 2011.

"Since we announced our gift for the Bucyrus Club and public space in 2020, we have been looking for 'what's next'? And we wanted 'what's next' to be a lasting investment in the City we embraced for a century, and that embraced us. This is it," Foundation Chairman and former Bucyrus President Tim Sullivan proudly states. "We couldn't be more excited to step up in this way to help the residents, business owners and students of South Milwaukee. South Milwaukee's success was always our success, and we are proud to honor that legacy with this donation."

The Bucyrus Foundation has approved the contribution. Says South Milwaukee Mayor Erik Brooks: "This is a historic day in our City. These funds will have lasting impact across South Milwaukee and will further strengthen the legacy of this storied company in our City. We could not deliver South Milwaukee's promising future without partners like Tim and the Bucyrus Foundation, and we can not thank them enough for their generosity. We are excited to start strategically investing these funds."

According to South Milwaukee School Superintendent Jeff Weiss: "We are honored the Foundation chose our local schools as one of the key recipients of this contribution. Tim and the Foundation understand the importance of education to the future of South Milwaukee, the state and the country, and we share that commitment. We look forward to working with them to invest these funds and lift up our students, staff and community."

Bucyrus Is Back in South Milwaukee

Bucyrus Club and Bucyrus Commons Update

In partnership with the Bucyrus Foundation, the City of South Milwaukee acquired the property at 1919 12th Avenue in early 2020. This former machine shop, that was reconfigured as a Bucyrus employee club, has now been renovated as the Bucyrus Club & Event Center. The Skyline Catering deli is open for breakfast and lunch on the first floor, and the Bucyrus Museum is open on the second floor.

The renovated Bucyrus Club captures many of the building's historic, original features along with modern upgrades to make it one of the most unique event venues in the area.

The ground floor includes two ballrooms, an outdoor patio and a couple of smaller event/meeting rooms. The 1893 ballroom was once home to Bucyrus' steam engineer assembly bay. The room's Cream City brick, cast iron beam supports, and rough sawn ceiling were kept as highlights of the space. The Grand Ballroom, once home to a machine shop, features a timber A-frame structure that once held two drive shafts and a crane rail for the machine tools. The shovels that made the Panama Canal were made right here.

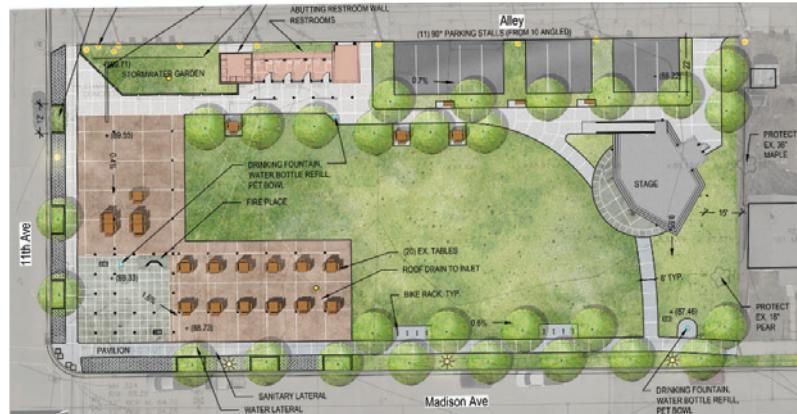

Dozens of events have already been scheduled at the facility in 2021 and 2022, with many patrons from outside the City, as the Club promises to be a major attraction for people from across the region. To accommodate the venue's popularity, Skyline Catering has expanded from 10 employees (in 2020) to 32 employees in 2021.

The Bucyrus Museum occupies 5,500 square feet on the building's second floor. The museum's collection includes almost 20,000 items associated with the nearly 120-year history of Bucyrus in South Milwaukee.

This project includes many stakeholders that contributed to its success. A special thank you goes to project manager and former South Milwaukee Mayor David Kieck, as well as the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation for a generous $250,000 Community Development Investment grant. Zimmerman Architectural Studios led project design, and CG Schmidt was the general contractor.

Bucyrus Commons Update

In addition to the Bucyrus Foundation's investment in the Bucyrus Club, it has also contributed to a downtown open space project on the City-owned property at the corner of

The City-owned parcel of land at the corner of 11th and Madison Avenues will be upgraded with a covered pavilion and an event stage as the new Bucyrus Commons.

11th and Madison Avenues. The site is currently used for the Downtown Market, European Beer Gardens, and as the home of events like Crusherfest, the Festival of Trees, and the South Milwaukee Deer Garden, as hundreds of people gathered for a viewing party to watch the Milwaukee Bucks win the NBA Championship on July 20 (see photo on pg. 28).

After several stakeholder committee meetings and two public surveys, a design concept has been created to include a covered pavilion, an event stage and permanent bathrooms.

In recognition of the Bucyrus Foundation's contribution, the space's name will be "Bucyrus Commons," and design elements will feature Bucyrus history and branding. The project's next steps include a finalized design and transitioning to the construction phase. A grand opening for the space is anticipated in late summer or fall of 2022. See the proposed space layout above.

► South Milwaukee Annual Budget By The Numbers

Providing Direction and Vision for the Future of the Community

The City's annual budget is the single most important document we have for providing direction and vision for the future of the community. It is the blueprint for financial and policy decisions implemented throughout the year.

And while we deal with challenges like state-imposed levy limits, reductions in state aids, and unforeseen expenses like those related to COVID-19, we continue to make necessary investments in bringing to life the City government's mission to deliver exceptional services to ensure a high quality of life and enable growth.

The process to build the next year's budget begins in August, as departments are asked to submit their plans to the administration. After meetings with department heads, the budget continues on to the South Milwaukee Common Council's Finance Committee for consideration. The Administrative Budget is typically published in early October. Public comment is considered in early November, and the Common Council usually considers passage of the final document later that month.

State Aids

State aids, our second-largest source of revenue, are down 10.5% since 2003. Shared revenue payments are down 20%.

Your Tax Bill

The tax levy is our largest source of revenue, but it is important to note the City is only one of several taxing jurisdictions that share your annual property tax payment. Although the City collects your entire tax payment, the City only retains 33.76 cents of every tax dollar for City operations. Other entities, such as the School District of South Milwaukee, Milwaukee Area Technical College and Milwaukee County also retain a portion of your annual tax payment.

Where Do Your Tax Dollars Go?

Funding Our Services: 2021 City Expenditures

We invest money where it is needed most, to deliver the services you have come to expect. Public Safety (police and fire) and Public Works make up more than half of annual expenditures.

PRACTICE AREAS INCLUDE:

- Estate planning
- Fiduciary services (guardianship, conservatorship and probate matters)

Balancing the Budget Amid Falling Revenues

South Milwaukee and communities across Wisconsin are struggling to fund their core services, due in part to state-imposed levy limits and declining state aids. These constraints have been with us more than a decade. State aids, our second-largest source of revenue, are down 10.5% since 2003. Shared revenue payments – which make up the biggest portion of aid provided South Milwaukee by the state – are down 20% over that time. Recycling aids have also dropped significantly.

► Business Spotlight: DB Tax & Wealth Making an Investment in the South Milwaukee Community

South Milwaukee is home to a diverse and fascinating collection of companies, including retail stores, restaurants, boutiques and service organizations. One of these businesses is DB Tax & Wealth, a mainstay in the City for more than 30 years. This financial services business is proud to call South Milwaukee its home, especially after making a major investment in the City over the past two years. With an expanded and newly renovated footprint at 1125 Milwaukee Avenue, this vibrant company has positioned itself as a leader in the industry, and is reaping the rewards of its own long-term financial plan and growth.

DB Tax & Wealth had a modest beginning back in 1989, when it was founded by current CEO Lisa Pugel's parents, (the D and B letters were her mother's initials). At the time the business only focused on seasonal tax preparation services. Lisa started working there during high school, and when her parents decided to retire in the early '90s, Lisa purchased the business from them. She began offering additional services, such as small business accounting and investment management, along with tax preparation to create more year-round services for its clients.

In 2015, Lisa made the decision to focus on business development. DB Tax & Wealth first purchased two neighboring properties so they could enlarge their footprint. With that expansion came the hiring of additional personnel, bringing them to 20 total employees at the moment. Lisa is the majority shareholder, along with her husband, Mark, and two key employees. Lisa's son and daughter are also shareholders, and are working at the firm while earning their financial certifications.

According to Lisa, "Everyone in the City has been so supportive of my vision for DB Tax & Wealth over the years. When I approached our City officials with my ideas of expanding, they immediately got on board and provided me resources to move forward. When you have the backing of the City, you become emotionally invested in the community, and the people who live here and support small businesses. My heart truly belongs to the City of South Milwaukee."

After City approval to purchase the adjoining distressed properties, Lisa put the rest of her plan into action. In addition to office space for DB Tax & Wealth, the newly renovated building is now a $2 million commercial center that will serve as a collaborative workspace for other financial agents and attorneys to build their own businesses. The new two-story addition includes an “amazing event space” according to Lisa, where special events and seminars can be held. Whether financial, charitable or educational in nature, Lisa’s team has identified numerous ways to attract folks from all walks of life and help them and the community even further.

So how is DB Tax & Wealth different than the competition? Their experienced advisors are not afraid to challenge conventional wisdom in their approach. By learning about your personal situation and helping to identify your dreams and goals, DB Tax & Wealth will assist you in:

- Ensuring your financial records are maintained correctly and accurately.
- Offering professional taxation expertise for both businesses and individuals.
- Providing investment and financial planning services.
- Managing debt to savings for college.
- Planning for retirement.
- Strategizing wealth management solutions.
- Creating a personal strategy that is designed to address your individual situation.

The staff at DB Tax & Wealth are seen here in their newly expanded and renovated offices on Milwaukee Ave.

From an early age, Lisa admits to being an over-achiever whose parents instilled upon her the importance of hard work and giving back. She has always loved to work and loved to help people. “Both of my parents were military, so we had a very strict regimen growing up, and that’s how it pushed me,” she explains. Today, Lisa tries to instill the same work ethic in her children, as someday she knows they will be taking over the business from her.

When asked what she loves most about doing business in South Milwaukee, Lisa is quick to point out that “being a part of such a wonderful community, full of hard-working, modest people is what we enjoy most. With many of our clients, we have second- and third-generation relationships that have become extensions of our family. It is very rewarding to help those individuals and other businesses save on their taxes, gain financial knowledge, and build strong financial plans to give them added confidence that they can attain their personal goals.”

DB Tax & Wealth also supports its altruistic mission throughout the year with give-back campaigns. From volunteering at a soup kitchen, to collecting gloves for local charities during the winter months, or assembling school supplies for local students, the DB Tax & Wealth team regularly bands together to make a difference in the community they love, and they have a lot of fun doing so.

The newly remodeled DB Tax & Wealth building has allowed the business to grow with its clients’ needs. This has enabled them to help families with very strategic, generational planning which creates stability and supports important financial decisions. Many thanks to DB Tax & Wealth for investing in South Milwaukee and making such a difference in our community.

► HOT JOB MARKET FOR ALUMNI OF MATC'S HEATING/COOLING/REFRIGERATION PROGRAMS

The coronavirus pandemic made people and business owners think more critically about air purity, including heating and air conditioning systems. Industry experts recognize MATC as one of the top schools in the U.S. for training the workforce to install and service air conditioning, refrigeration and heating equipment.

When Roberto Cisneros' employer laid him off after the coronavirus pandemic hit, he didn't waste any time pursuing a new career with stronger opportunities. He enrolled in the Refrigeration, Air Conditioning and Heating Service Technician technical diploma program at the Oak Creek Campus. After graduating in May 2021, he immediately began working in the industry and is now with Burant Heating and Air Conditioning LLC in Franklin.

"When I started the job, they said I was a lot more informed than other new people. They were impressed that I already knew some technical things," Cisneros says.

The college offers a 30-credit technical diploma and a related 64-credit associate in applied science degree; the associate degree credits transfer to partnering four-year colleges. Graduates of both programs are prepared for a career with steady demand.

"The trades are always looking for people, and this is a vast industry that's paying really well," says David Polk, MATC's director of apprenticeship programs.

Technical Training Can Lead to a 'Clean' Job

Students who excel at assembling puzzles are likely to be a good match for the career because they can envision the finished project before it is installed. They will gain a background in mathematics, drafting, electricity and thermodynamics at MATC.

"There are a lot of 'clean' jobs like building automation that deal more with technology and computer programming rather than hanging ductwork and installing a furnace," says Polk. Some graduates such as Cisneros work in homes while others work on the largest buildings in the region.

Polk also points out that Wisconsin's "temperature swings from very hot to very low make the heating and air conditioning industry all the more important."

The college was named one of the top Air Conditioning (AC) Technician Schools nationwide by the HVAC classes.org blog. The recognition acknowledges the diligent work of college instructors to ensure that MATC's courses meet industry needs.

Cisneros enjoyed his MATC experience. He noted that his instructors had different styles of teaching, which kept the classes interesting and engaging. Instructor Andy Lewis, for example, "would chat with us and give scenarios that happened to him in the field. They used real-life stories during their lectures," Cisneros says.

To learn more about these programs, visit and search “heating” or call the Recruitment Department at 414.297.6228. Students should check out the career if they:

- Are talented at assembling puzzles and spatial visualization.
- Possess high mechanical aptitude and manual dexterity.
- Work effectively with others and have good communication skills.

Ready To Repair: MATC Appliance Technicians Are In Demand

One of the only programs of its kind in the U.S., MATC has one of the few appliance technician programs nationwide. Students learn to truly analyze and understand a situation – and not simply change parts until an appliance returns to working order. They gain a fundamental understanding of electricity to help them troubleshoot. Students also work on soft skills because they will spend significant time on the job interacting with customers. 2018 graduate Jason Manske. “We try to come in as friendly as possible and always respect their property. It’s important to keep your area clean and clean up after yourself.”

Full-time students can complete the Appliance Technician technical diploma program, offered at the MATC Education Center at Walker’s Square, in two semesters and graduates earn $16 to $19 per hour, according to instructor Jim Rehm. Those working on high-end appliances can earn significantly more hourly and qualify for bonuses, making their yearly income above $60,000.

Welcome Back Students and Faculty

Dr. Jeff Weiss

On behalf of the School District of South Milwaukee, I would like to welcome everyone to the 2021-2022 school year! There are many great things in store for this new season of learning, and I would like to highlight a few of the exciting changes.

South Milwaukee High School has a new principal and a new schedule for the 2021-2022 school year. Mr. Bryan Terry was selected as the new principal for the high school after completing three rounds of interviews with more than 40 teachers, students, parents and administrators. This is Mr. Terry's tenth year as an administrator. More information about Mr. Terry can be found in an interview with him in this edition of Bridges (see pg. 26).

The new high school bell schedule that was approved by the School Board will be implemented this school year. The new schedule is a modified block schedule that will allow courses to be taken over an entire school year. This change will help students prepare for the AP exam, increase enrollment in the performing arts, allow for core subject area classes to continue all year, and add additional face-to-face instructional time to the high school.

The South Milwaukee Middle School is also implementing a new schedule for the 2021-2022 school year. The new middle school schedule will add a 35-minute Homebase period to the school day. This addition, and other changes to the schedule, will allow English and math teachers to fully implement their curriculum, and continue to encourage and embed solid and personalized universal curriculum. Students will have access to all of their core area teachers during Homebase to support their academic needs during the school day. The 35-minute Homebase structure will also allow the middle school to research and implement a flexible tier 1 and/or tier 2 intervention model, as well as continue the District's focus on social/emotional instruction with all students.

At the elementary school level, all-day, four-year-old kindergarten will be available at each school in the District. Blakewood will house both a full- and half-day 4K program. This summer, teams of elementary and secondary teachers met to identify the most essential standards in the areas of reading and math in order to streamline and focus our instruction. Teachers and administrators also met over the summer to continue our work on Professional Learning Communities and equity.

This upcoming school year is filled with exciting opportunities for our students and the community. We thank you for your continued support!

► Wisconsin State Budget and Federal COVID-19 Act: IMPACT ON SCHOOLS

This past June, with a historic amount of funding available at the state level, our State legislators passed a budget that had a $0 increase to school revenue limits for the next two years, and included no state relief to help with the COVID-19 pandemic. Additionally, the money that was allocated to schools from the state was added to the mix of money that is capped by the revenue limit. This will reduce property taxes, which is a great thing, but it will do nothing to provide schools with any increase in revenue limit. Thankfully, our leaders at the federal level passed bills both under President Trump and President Biden that provided some one-time funding to assist with the COVID-19 pandemic (more on this later).

The budget passed by our state legislators has significant implications for the future. Schools will need to decide if it is worth spending one-time revenue on ongoing costs, thus creating a fiscal cliff that will need to be dealt with in a few short years. The Federal COVID-19 funding will need to be used in a fashion that it was not intended to be used. It will need to be used to sustain ongoing programs, and schools will be left with less resources to recover from the pandemic. When the federal funding runs out, school districts across Wisconsin will be left to either cut programs or go to their local communities for referendum.

Now, back to the federal funding referenced earlier. South Milwaukee has been allocated $8,085,068 in federal funding. There is a requirement that 20% of this funding be used on “unfinished teaching and learning,” but at this point the guidelines are still being developed to determine what constitutes unfinished teaching and learning. The proposed plan for South Milwaukee includes items that fall into one of three buckets.

The first is Safety & Mitigation, the second is Unfinished Teaching and Learning, and the final is Transitioning to a Post-Pandemic World. The plan is under construction and feedback has been received and will continue to be taken, but the hiccup is that schools will have to figure out how to sustain current programs based on the current state budget.

The proposed plan for federal money includes several items that will impact schools’ ability to handle the pandemic response in the future, and items that will improve the use of technology for all of our students and staff. For example, with regards to HVAC, the current proposed plan includes replacing our HVAC systems at Lakeview and E.W. Luther Schools with more powerful equipment that will increase the air-filtration system effectiveness, allow for mechanical automation and, last but not least, provide conditioned air to all rooms. This item alone has a big price tag, and the impact will be far reaching. With regards to technology, we have upgraded the capacity of our firewall and purchased software and devices that will be leveraged throughout upcoming school years.

Our schools have learned a lot through this pandemic, and will leverage that learning to promote greater opportunities for our students. There is a lot of work to do, and we know how to do it. Thanks to the federal government for stepping up and providing some one-time support; it is greatly appreciated and our students will get great benefits from it. If no additional action is taken at the state level, school districts across Wisconsin will face significant challenges when the federal funding expires.

South Milwaukee High School Fall Sports in Action

Last year's fall sports season was abbreviated and many sports were moved to the spring due to COVID-19. This year, there is a full slate of fall sports. The District will continue to monitor the prevalence of COVID-19 in the community and our schools and take the appropriate measures to keep our student athletes and coaches safe. Below is a quick rundown of the varsity fall sports teams.

Boys' and Girls' Cross Country: This is Coach Stan Druckrey's 50th year as cross country coach for the Rockets. The Rocket Invite will be named after Coach Druckrey to celebrate the many years he devoted to sharing his passion of running. This year's team is a young one with many new faces after graduating several seniors.

Boys' Soccer: Much like the cross country team, many seniors graduated last year. This year's team features 2 returning all-conference players and additional young and talented players.

Boys' Volleyball: The boys' volleyball team will continue its cooperative with Thomas More High School. A very competitive season is expected for this upcoming season.

Football: The Woodland Conference is a very tough one once again this season. That said, the South Milwaukee football team is returning 21 seniors. The Rockets started off their season with a resounding 49-0 opening week win over Dominican, and look to compete week in and week out and vie for another coveted playoff spot.

Girls' Swimming: A strong girls' swimming team is expected for the fall season. There has been excellent participation in the program and some real leaders have developed to help form a cohesive unit early in the season.

Girls' Tennis: The girls have been very solid the last two seasons taking first in the Woodland in 2019 and being close to repeating last year. If their 5th place showing in our annual 16-team Invite is any indication, they will be right there again this year.

Girls' Volleyball: The girls' volleyball team was a Conference Champion last year for the first time in school history. Standout junior Riley Laine returns this year to lead the quest for a second consecutive conference title.

Poms and Cheer: The Poms and Cheer squads will return to the sidelines and competitions this year and will certainly prove through their tumbling and dance skills that they are true student-athletes as well.

▶ Meet Bryan Terry, The New South Milwaukee High School Principal

Mr. Bryan Terry's first day as principal for South Milwaukee High School officially began on July 1. Prior to that date, Mr. Terry spent several days touring the school and the City of South Milwaukee. Below is an interview with Mr. Terry about his background, experiences and hopes for South Milwaukee High School.

Bridges: What is your background as an educator?

"I am beginning year 27 as an educator and my 11th year as a school principal. Throughout my career as an educator I have served in many capacities, starting in the classroom as a teacher assistant, and eventually spending 11 years as a licensed teacher. The past several years I have been specializing in developing highly effective teachers and school administrators through advanced use of data to drive academic success via personalized learning. As an urban educational leader, I am capable of connecting students and stakeholders, regardless of race, to culturally responsive practices through equitable procedures and strategic planning to help improve student learning outcomes."

Bridges: What attracted you to this position in South Milwaukee?

"Like many other exciting places in our state, the city of South Milwaukee has always been viewed as a location in Wisconsin where residents value hard work and place high importance on the education of their students. The opportunity to contribute to a high-quality education for all students is what attracted me to the School District of South Milwaukee, as the district is engaging in critical programming that aligns equity work to improve instructional practices."

Bridges: What are your first impressions of the staff and community?

"My first impression of the staff is the feeling of excitement! The unbelievable commitment that is shown by the staff for expanding their learning, for the sake of improved instructional strategies, that will lead to more engaging and rigorous learning opportunities for all South Milwaukee children. My initial impression of the community is promising! The diversity of people and businesses in the community are outstanding, as opportunities for developing as an effective citizen of South Milwaukee are plentiful and choices for your interest are great.

Bridges: What goals do you have for the upcoming school year?

"My primary goal for the upcoming school year is to build on the great academic initiatives already working in the school and identifying areas available for improvements.

OTHER GOALS:

1. Increase community and business involvement in the school to help increase learning opportunities for all students.

Parents, community members and business representatives bring a particular set of learning opportunities for our students, so engaging these special groups in the instructional and learning process for our students is critical.

2. Continue to expand the equity work already started in the Integrated Comprehensive Systems for Equity program currently being used in the District.

The work being presented and implemented by this program is continuously increasing the opportunities for all students in the District to learn at a high level.

3. Enhance student experiences through conversations with the student body and staff members.

The goal is to seek out and make available academic and social programming, resources, and activities at school that will help prepare the students for a successful career or collegiate education they seek.

Bridges: What is something you are looking forward to this school year?

"I am looking forward to meeting the new students and learning about their strengths and weaknesses. I love gaining this new knowledge, as it provides an opportunity for me as a school leader to provide each student with the support they need to successfully meet their academic and social goals annually. I look forward to working and learning with the staff within the school. Each staff member brings a unique perspective to the learning process of our students, and together we can ensure all students excel academically."

Bridges: Is there anything else you would like to add?

"I am excited to begin the next phase of my professional career in the City of South Milwaukee and South Milwaukee High School. I cannot wait to engage the parents, students, staff and the community in the work that is needed for all students to reach their full potential by graduation!"
